Tree Farmer Dinner Programs

Over 10 million acres (63%) of Virginia's woodlands are owned by folks like you, except that Tree Farmers are a cut above the rest. As one of Virginia's 1,200 Tree Farmers, you are more committed than the average landowner to things like forest health & productivity.

The Virginia Tree Farm Committee would like to thank all Virginia Tree Farmers for this commitment by hosting you and a family member to join us for a (free) dinner program. Please join us for one of the 8 exciting dinner programs!

The dinner program topic at 6 of the locations will be: Preparing for Generation NEXT. This program will inspire, engage and equip you with regard to "what's next" for your woodland. This topic will be presented at the following locations:

- Catawba
- Woodford
- Madison
- Appomattox
- Winchester
- Lovingston

More tree-centric programs will be offered in Courtland and Galax. In Courtland, the topic will be improving and growing loblolly pine seedlings. In Galax, the topic will be American chestnut restoration efforts.

Regardless of the location, Tree Farm Committee members will be on hand to answer questions about being a Tree Farmer.

Although the program is free, pre-registration is required no later than 10 days in advance.
